

"My research at our public library and online is the basis for my continuing education. The library, in particular, is an irreplaceable community center for information, entertainment and lifelong learning."

Dr. Richard Moore
LCSC College Professor, Retired

The story we're writing now helps educate our community for now and the future. Libraries have a direct and positive effect on individuals and on the well-being of the surrounding community. We're creating a place that inspires all ages and interests. A community constant for information, inspiration and entertainment.

With your help, we're not just building a library, we're creating the heart of the community.

We are planning to be in our new home in downtown Lewiston Spring 2013. Be a part of this story by making a donation to help us remodel the Cornerstone/Erb Hardware Building.
